

Satnews Daily

March 02, 2009

Moving On Up... At Integral Systems...

Integral Systems, Inc. (Nasdaq: ISYS) has appointed R. Miller Adams as General Counsel.

Adams brings to Integral Systems significant experience in the technology commercialization industry. Prior to joining Integral Systems, he founded Sheppard Global Ltd., a consultancy focused on technology commercialization. Previously, Adams spent nine-years with The Boeing Company where he was responsible for the creation and implementation of an integrated, multi-faceted global R&D strategy. During his tenure at The Boeing Company, including several years as Director and Vice President of Global Research and Development Strategies in Boeing Phantom Works, Adams was responsible for a vast array of innovative and effective technology strategies and commercialization initiatives. Prior to joining Boeing, Adams worked in various legal and corporate positions with both mature and early-stage companies. Adams is a graduate of Seattle University with a Bachelor's in Sociology and earned his Juris Doctor at The University of Puget Sound School of Law (now Seattle University School of Law).